

Everett Bradley Bids for Place on American Team

Kansas University Athletic Star Has Performed In Style

Youthful Star Will Be One of Midwestern Stars Backed to Cop Place on Yank Team That Will Make Trip to Antwerp; Will Enter All-around

BY JACK VELOCK.

International News Sporting Editor.
NEW YORK.—Everett Bradley, youthful athletic star of the University of Kansas, who recently won the American pentathlon championship in the Philadelphia relays in Philadelphia, will compete for the honor of representing this country in the Olympic games at Antwerp.

The sturdy lad is already pointing himself for the official tryouts which are to be held at Cambridge, Mass., under A. A. C. and Harvard auspices in July, and although he gained fame by winning the pentathlon he will probably compete for the decathlon, as his advisers say he is much better fitted for that event.

In winning the pentathlon title this Iowa boy sprang something of a surprise, for he did not win first place in any of the five events, piling up his points by taking second, third, fourth, fifth and sixth places. However, he will have an opportunity to show his real class, for he is a wonderful all-around performer and has the strength and the fine courage to make him dangerous in any event.

The new champion is a sophomore more at the University of Kansas. He is only twenty-three years old and weighs 170 pounds. He stands 5 feet 9 1/2 inches tall in his stockings and is wonderfully proportioned. He was born on a farm near Oskaloosa, Iowa, but before he got out of "knickerbockers" his parents moved to Cherokee, Okla., where he has lived since he was six years of age, and Cherokee claims the distinction of calling him her own. In addition to being a good athlete—he has been in athletics since he turned sixteen—he was always a good student, and when he entered Kansas he proved it by keeping well up in all of his studies. He was a class officer as a freshman and this year was elected a member of the university's athletic board.

In his high school days in Oklahoma he won many loving cups and more than a hundred medals in state and national high school meets. He also has a war record, as he was a private at Camp Logan, Houston, Tex., for six months as a member of Company B, Eighty-third Infantry.

At the recent Penn relays Bradley captured the pentathlon championship by taking second place in the 200-meter race, the javelin throw and the broad jump, third in the discus throw and fourth in the 1,500-meter race. In the decathlon—the event in which he hopes to represent the United States at Antwerp—he will compete in the broad jump, high jump, pole vault, discus throw, javelin, 150-meter shot-put, 100-meter race, 110-meter high hurdles, 400-meter race and 1,600-meter race.

Proof that Bradley has a lot of all-around class is shown by the records he has made in various events. His best efforts have been as follows: 150-yard dash, 17 1/2 seconds, Arkansas, 1919; 100-yard dash, 10 seconds, Arkansas Valley, 1917; 220-yard dash, 22 seconds, University of Pennsylvania, 1919; 400-yard dash, 1:00 1/2, Oklahoma state, 1914; 800-yard dash, 2:14 1/2, Kansas City A. ## YALE ATHLETES START GRID WORK

Summer Practice Being Held Under Direction of Tad Jones; Prospects Good

With the football season still many weeks in the future, Tad Jones, Yale coach, is not overlooking any opportunities to prepare the grid football team for the coming season. He is only twenty-three years old and weighs 170 pounds. He stands 5 feet 9 1/2 inches tall in his stockings and is wonderfully proportioned. He was born on a farm near Oskaloosa, Iowa, but before he got out of "knickerbockers" his parents moved to Cherokee, Okla., where he has lived since he was six years of age, and Cherokee claims the distinction of calling him her own. In addition to being a good athlete—he has been in athletics since he turned sixteen—he was always a good student, and when he entered Kansas

At present, Jones is out in Seattle where he holds a place with a ship building concern, but through the medium of Uncle Sam's postoffice department he is sending dopes to New Haven, sort of preparing to arouse the Yale spirit which has been conspicuous by its absence during the past few seasons.

"You can't do anything in football or anything else without some spirit," Jones said recently, "and before we really get started on football plans I want to have the proper spirit started." Jones has several able lieutenants on the job at Yale, and his instructions are being carried out to the letter.

"Beat Harvard and Princeton," is Jones' battle cry this year, and in order to be fitted to do this, the Elis are going to go through one of the most strenuous campaigns they have ever known. For the past two weeks prospective griders have been taking some special outdoor work suggested by Jones, and during the summer those of them who usually idle the warm months away will have set tasks designed by Jones via the suggestion route, to keep their muscular systems and wind in proper shape to yield to the training in the fall.

Several of the prospective Yale stars are going in for rough work this summer. They are the kind inclined to stoutness and they have been obliged to do manual labor to retain their symmetry and keep the muscles in good condition. Jones does not care particularly for a beefy team, his machines in the past having always won and been entitled to special mention because of their speed.

Dr. A. Sharpe, although not in any way connected with the football situation at Yale since Jones was employed, has volunteered to assist in getting the candidates ready this spring, and he has given them a number of valuable pointers, all of which were in strict accord with Jones' suggestions. Jones says Yale will make a comeback next fall.

TOLEDO MAKING PLANS FOR GOLF

National Open Tourney to Be Held in Ohio City August 10-14

TOLEDO, O., June 2.—Experts, golf course architects and green keepers have started to work on the grooming of the links of the University Country club to make sure that it will be one of the international character to be given the National Open Golf championship to be played here August 10-14. Harry Vardon and Edward Ray are to take part in the meet, and possibly other Britons.

Par for the course is 35-37-72 for a total yardage of 6511, but this will be changed somewhat so that the par will be 36-36-72 and the length 6569 yards. The links is said to be approximately three strokes more difficult than Muirfield, Scotland, where the British championship is to be played this year, but to make sure that difficulties consist of nothing except scientific bunkering and arrangement, the club managers have set to work to make every inch of the course as nearly perfect as possible.

The links does not punish short or long drives provided they are properly placed, but the golfer who is inclined to "take a chance," letting himself out for distance rather than direction will find a course that offers a problem for mathematical calculations of superlative dimensions. New bunkering on the course will, it is said, increase the hazard on each misplaced shot about 70 per cent.

Special attention has been paid to the second shot in which judgment of distance, control of direction and test of ability to get home make the difference between a birdie or a par plus one.

There are three "dog leg" holes on the course—seven, nine and seventeen. The man who is sure of himself and his distance can save a shot by negotiating the "turn" from the tee, but the "safety first" player will find that his ball will be in trouble even if he plays straight ahead, and doesn't keep the exact center of the course. There are only three one-shot holes but all the others are comparatively short, the longest being the 522 yard 12th.

The following table shows the yardage with par of the change course.

Holes	Yards	Par
1	285	4
2	292	4
3	135	3
4	420	4
5	438	4
6	350	4
7	320	4
8	208	3
9	492	5
10	510	5
11	246	4
12	522	5
13	150	3
14	417	4
15	443	4
16	410	4
17	430	4

LADIES ENJOY IT

PUEBLO.—The boxing committee in Pueblo has put the game on a nigh plane. The fighters don't stall. There is no smoking. Harsh words are left outside—and the lady fans attend in flocks like it was a moving picture show.

OGDEN SPORTS PLAN SUMMER HIKE CLUB; MANY WOMEN INTERESTED IN PROPOSALS

Oh, Boy!
Hiking is fast becoming one of the popular summer sports and already throngs of Ogdenites have started preparations to form a club. Employees of Browning Brothers' company are the first to start plans for such an organization and the men and women of that institution have made several hikes to date. The women in particular are interested in the proposals for the organization. But—gentle reader the proposals are entirely of a different nature than the "leap year" or non-leap year proposals. There are in reference to the welfare of the club.

A few days ago a party of nineteen employees of Browning Brothers hiked to Malan Heights. They left the city about 8 o'clock and reached the heights about midnight. Camp was then made for the night. Those in the party were as follows: Robert Nevins, George Cowdry, Grace Jennings, W. D. Harrison, Jeanette Leek, Bonita Bingham, J. H. Jones, Eva Dunbar, Stella Malan, Lavier Richardson, Lucille Davis, Dea Sellic, Irene Hutchins, Gilles Vernieum, Earl Rawson, Vernon Gibbs, Flossie Miller, Cecil Miller and Einar Eskildsen.

The young women and men were attired in hiking garb and from all reports the new sport is just on the road to great success locally. One of the young women in the party said: "Oh 'tis wonderful, and believe me, we girls will always be on deck when hikes of a similar nature are in store. We had a wonderful time and the exercise and the great benefits derived are second to none of the major branches of sports."

JAZZY SPORTS

Jack Britton now considers Canton, Ohio, his luckiest stamping grounds, since he won the welter title in the Buckeye city, and has since scored victories over some formidable opponents there.

Barney Adair, New York light-weight, recently received a battered ear in a bout with Ritchie Mitchell, of Milwaukee. The ear was badly hurt and Adair was compelled to enter a hospital for treatment to save the appendage. He was obliged to cancel free battles on account of the injury.

Doc Johnston, Cleveland veteran first baseman, hitting the ball harder and more frequently than ever before in his long career on the diamond, is up against the proposition of his legs giving out under him. Johnston is undergoing special treatment to keep his pins in proper condition.

Bryan Downey, Columbus, Ohio, batter who has been meeting all coaters with much success in the welterweight class, has announced he is through with the 145 pound brigade and will immediately join the middle-weight class. Downey scales naturally in fighting trim at about 155. He has issued a challenge to meet Johnny Wilson, the lad who relieved Mike O'Dowd of his crown.

The action of the Akron City boxing commission in refusing to permit Soldier Bob Martin, champion heavy-weight of the A. E. F. to fight in the Rubber City on July 5th, unless he agreed to meet one of several men named by the commission, is unprecedented in the annals of boxing commissions. The Akron boxing solons declared Martin has appeared in that city several times but has never met a man with sufficient class to make the bout interesting. It was semi-officially announced that the commission was tired of "set ups."

Having had his consecutive win record smashed by the New York Yankees ten days ago when Pitcher Jack Quinn of the Yanks poled a homer at a critical stage, George Coveloskie, of the Cleveland team, is striving to regain his form. He has five defeats throughout the season. He has been pitching remarkable ball.

Chick Harley, star footballer with the Ohio State University football team for the past three seasons, announced recently when he accepted a position on the coaching staff of his alma mater, that he would positively not be identified in any way with professional football.

Massachusetts wants legalized boxing now and an attempt to have a measure placed on the statute books will be made soon. The proposed measure would set the age of the boxers at 18 and would impose a heavy fine upon those who attend unlicensed boxing exhibitions in the state. It is said boxing under the proposed bill would net the state approximately $400,000 per year. The bill has been turned over to the ways and means committee of the Massachusetts house.

WEE GEE SAYS

Once there was a careless golfer
Who would n'er pay heed to "Fore."
It's tough it had to happen—
But said golfer is no more.

I had a dream the other night
When everything was so bright
I dreamed that you could purchase shoes
For one five-dollar bill.
I dreamed there were a million stores
Where sugar could be found.
And grocers glad to sell the stuff
For seven cents a pound.

I dreamed that bacon was reduced
And eggs a longer high
That new potatoes were not sold
For twenty cents an eye.
I dreamed that silk was so cheap
Twelve pairs I could afford.
I woke—and found that I was in
The psychopathic ward.

According to the papers, 20 per cent reductions are all the rage. John Wanamaker set tongues to wagging by cutting everything in his store. Now other merchants are using red ink on their price tags and the bargain hunters are being run ragged.

This 20 per cent seems to be applying chiefly to clothing and allied merchandise. Boozie prescriptions are still 2 and there's no apparent inclination to write 'em for $1.99. But when it comes to good food, come of the 20 per cent wave of economy as soon as Jack Dempsey hears about it. He has been too busy getting ready to be tried as a slacker in San Francisco to read the papers.

As soon as Jack gets the 20 per cent reduction in his bean he will reduce his demand for big purses and fans will see him in some companies. Especially if the movie companies start cutting his 20 per cent bonus. Maybe even a bout with Carpenter might be arranged if Jack would cut 20 per cent—or half a million dollars—off his purse. We can think of a lot of things that ought to be reduced—among which are the prices demanded by boxing champions.

PARIS, June 1.—Announcement by the government that medals would be awarded to mothers of large families has resulted in a large number of applications being received. The mother of a family of eight will receive a silver medal, while one who has ten children will be awarded a gold medal.

ANOTHER CINCINNATI?—SAN ANTONIO.—The Bronchos are bucking the leaders in the Texas League this year. San Antonio has won but one pennant in league history. That was in 1908.

CUP DEFENDERS TO BEGIN RACE SERIES

NEWPORT, R. I., June 1.—The sloop Vanitie, one of the candidates for the defense of the America's cup has rested in a large number of applications being received. PLAN REVISION FOR TRACK TILTS

Increasing Popularity in Games Cause for New Methods

Before another track and field season arrives a number of the leading trainers in the east, among whom are Lawson Robertson, of the University of Pennsylvania, will make an effort to have the Intercollegiate association adopt a program that will enable spectators at these games to witness all or nearly all of the events.

Concerted action looking toward a re-arrangement of the system for handling track and field meets, has been contemplated for some time. The classic games have never paid their way even in the larger colleges, and a recent diagnosis by experts placed the blame upon the method of staging the meets in three-ring circus fashion so that the spectators could not watch more than one event at a time.

This year there has been a growing interest in track and field sports, and in some colleges there has been a great increase in attendance at important meets. Lawson Robertson recently announced as his belief that it would be impossible to center activities in one spot but there could no doubt be a great improvement made in the present system.

Under the plan in vogue at present, the sprints and relays are seen by practically all of the spectators at a college meet. The hurdles, too, are given lots of attention. The jumps, pole vault and weight affairs, by reason of being staged simultaneously at most meets, are rarely noticed until the results are announced, when record-breaking performances are given a brief cheer.

Officials of the A. A. U., including Frederick Ruben, have advised the responsible for the movement that they will be glad to give any plan they formulate their serious consideration and if found feasible at all give it a trial. Mr. Ruben stated that most of the fields where athletic meets are held provide ample space for staging the various events with the gaze of the spectators. The suggestion was made first in 1913 and was to have had a trial in 1915, but conditions arose which made it impossible for the committee to carry out their plans.
